

Gabbro emergency sheet

If this device is lost, broken or you forget something, this page is what gets the vault open again. Fill it in by hand. Keep it on paper only.

Vault

Vault name (alias, as shown in Gabbro)

Where the vault file is (Linux default `~/.local/share/app.gabbro.gabbro/`; on Android use the export folder)

Export folder (menu > Export)

Import folder (menu > Import entries)

Sync folder (menu > Sync settings: where the other device's export lands)

Master passphrase

Write clearly. Mark the difference between 0 and O, 1 and I and l, spaces and hyphens. Case matters.

YubiKeys (only if the vault uses them)

Gabbro registers at least two keys. Either one opens the vault, together with the passphrase.

Primary key

Alias (name in Gabbro)

PIN

Serial number (printed on the key)

Where it is kept

Further keys (alias, PIN, serial, where kept)

Backup key

Alias (name in Gabbro)

PIN

Serial number (printed on the key)

Where it is kept

Keeping this sheet

Seal it in an envelope and keep it somewhere safe that is not with the device or the keys: a home safe, a locked drawer, a trusted person.

Make a second copy and keep it in a different place, so one fire or flood cannot take both.

Do not photograph, scan or type this sheet into any device. Its whole point is that it is not on a computer.

When you change the passphrase, a PIN or a key, replace the sheet the same day. An out-of-date sheet is worse than none: you will trust it.
